We have surveys posted on the website also. We plan to post results as we receive them, and share them publicly in school council meetings. We can post the plan on the school website and request additional feedback. We invite stakeholders to participate in different needs assessment meetings that will be held monthly throughout the school year, and we will consider their insight and ideas.

2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA’s data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by “TFS” (too few students).

What perception data did you use?	Climate survey data Title I surveys Student engagement surveys Parent, staff, and student surveys
-----------------------------------	--

What does the perception data tell you?	Many people think the school is moving in the right direction, but still have many challenges (such as student engagement, academically challenging environments, and not having a positive image within the community). Many students are not engaged in the studies.
---	--

What process data did you use?	Classroom walkthroughs and observations TKES reports Lesson plans Peer observations and walkthroughs Use of rigor, relevance, and learning environment rubrics during administrative and peer observations/walkthroughs
--------------------------------	---

What does your process data tell you?	There is a need for classroom management training as well as professional learning on differentiation. Teachers also need to do a better job of creating an academically challenging environment that is well-managed and conducive to student learning. Teachers also need additional professional learning and coaching on developing quality lesson plans that incorporate rigorous learning opportunities and assessments for students that align with the rigor of the standards and Achievement Level Descriptors.
---------------------------------------	--

What achievement data did you use?	We analyzed EOC test data from the 2018-2019 school year. We analyzed attendance data from the 2018-2019 school year. We analyzed behavior data from the 2018-2019 school year.
------------------------------------	---

What does your achievement data tell you?	We have a very low percentage of students scoring proficient or higher on the Georgia Milestone assessments. Our lowest performing EOC content areas are Algebra I, Geometry, and American Literature. Students with attendance and behavior issues are some of our lowest performing students on standardized assessments. Many teachers need additional professional learning on classroom management in order to help address our behavior issues.
---	---

What demographic data did you use?	We used the school enrollment numbers for each race.
--	---

What does the demographic data tell you?	Our largest population is African American, with a low Caucasian and Hispanic population.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We noticed that we are emerging in many areas and we can improve with communication, consistency, and quality of assessments. One trend that we have identified is that teachers are inconsistent in implementation of the processes that are in place to identify students' and teachers' weaknesses. Another identified trend is teachers are inconsistent in increasing the rigor of the questions, activities, and assessments. The administrative team is also inconsistent regarding monitoring and reinforcing coherent instructional practices with every teacher in every classroom.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Leaders are aware of the processes and procedures implemented and the usage of resources. Many of the processes in place are effective such as BST meetings, department meetings, parent and student councils, Title 1 meetings, safety meetings, CLT meetings, and parent advisory meetings. We also have put in place procedures to increase rigor of instruction and test questions. We need to work on the process of monitoring the teacher and student usage of resources that are available. We have communications in place but we do need to improve the process of making the parents aware of school improvement efforts. We need to continue to work on rigor; as well as, monitoring teachers to ensure policies, procedures are consistently communicated and enforced.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	At this time, we have introduced a great process for professional learning that stands to gain much improvement. This entails meeting with all teachers at the beginning of the school year to identify their initial strengths, weaknesses, and needs. As the school year continues, weekly teacher observations and walkthroughs allow administrators to gauge whether teachers are making progress toward their goals or not based on those identified needs. Administrators make notes about this progress and conference frequently with teachers in order to adjust (if necessary) their professional development needs based on the weaknesses observed in these walkthroughs. Administrators also look at the behavior data and formative assessment data of each teacher, as well as each teacher's lesson plans, in order to identify other professional

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	development needs that may be required, such as classroom management development (if the teacher struggles with discipline) or development of rigorous, engaging lessons that align with the standards. Now that the process is in place, we can identify any struggling educators and provide additional differentiated instruction to get them up to speed on the process, while increasing our focus on the output of QUALITY formative assessments, summative assessments, and rigorous lessons.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	We have found that text messages are more effective than other messages. Social media is a preferred method of communication for many in the community. Despite the efforts and processes in place, we still find that family involvement and community perception needs improvement. As a school, we need to increase our focus on developing more capacity building activities for our parents and community.
Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	It is evident that we are emerging in most areas. There is a need for teachers to work on creating supportive, well-managed classroom environments that are conducive to learning and support the needs of all students. There is also a need for teachers to increase the rigor and relevance of their assignments, assessments, etc. in order to create more academically challenging environments. The learning opportunities and assessment provided to the students should align with the rigor of the state standards, and there is a need to provide teachers with more professional development in this area.
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The socioeconomic status of our students and community, as well as budget limitations, are detrimental to student achievement. The size of the county, and lack of resources within it, pose transportation and student/community involvement issues.
Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The black subgroup has a substantially higher number of beginning level learners on the Georgia Milestones, but it has a higher graduation rate. Much of this was concluded based on the demographic composition of the school. Due to the small population size of the school, a small number of students can drastically affect the passage rate on the Georgia Milestones, the graduation rate, and other sources of achievement data. Students with high discipline referrals and/or attendance issues are performing lower than their peers. The disparity among racial subgroups holds consistent in all areas. Moving

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	forward, our school needs to develop grading practices and procedures that accurately portray student development and outcomes.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Some special education programs focus on teaching life skills so that the student may one day be self-sufficient. Fundamental to these programs are specialized units that teach personal hygiene, handling money, household operations and safety concepts. Additionally, these programs offer community business connections to help teach workplace skills such as being on time, following directions and interacting with co-workers. This is a tremendous benefit for the special education student who wants to hold a job.
------------------	---

Challenges	Special education students need special assistance and a plan that will help them become successful academically. The Individual Education Plan is developed by the parents and teachers of the special education student and focuses on implementing strategies to facilitate academic and behavioral success. Written in the plan are accommodations and modifications to the learning environment that are helpful, and in some cases necessary, for student success. For instance, some students need extended time when testing or completing assignments, some require a small-group learning environment, and some need the opportunity to take electronic notes or be provided with teacher written notes. One major challenge we face, however, is that many of our teachers that work with our special education students do not have the tools and/or instructional strategies they need in order to properly work with this population and meet their educational needs. Our non-exceptional education teachers need more professional learning in this area.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLAN

3 Required Questions

Required Questions

1 In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders) was accomplished.	The school involved a variety of stakeholders to participate in the School Improvement Planning process by completing surveys, analyzing data, and participating in on-site meetings. The team created a group of stakeholders that were instrumental in the day to day knowledge of Greenville High School. The team evaluated and analyzed the data, recorded the findings, then shared their findings and feedback. Information was also retrieved from the Comprehensive Needs Assessment (CNA) which is comprised of information and data from multiple surveys. We will post the SIP to eBoard. The GaDOE School Improvement Specialist provided input, and data was collected from the surveys.
2 Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	All teachers are required to be professionally qualified and in-field for their current teaching assignment. Continuous monitoring and analysis of the professionally qualified assignment of teachers based on student demographics (poverty level, minority, etc.) is systematically done using information from the Certified/Classified Personnel Information, Georgia Professional Standards Commission HIQ2 data, and local system data. This ensures that economically disadvantaged and minority students are not taught by inexperienced, unqualified, or out-of-field teachers at higher rates than other children.
3 Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I School. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).	Under the Title I school-wide program, all instructional staff continue to participate in professional learning regarding the implementation of standards-based classrooms, Georgia Standards of Excellence, understanding poverty, parental involvement, differentiated teaching strategies, and RtI Tiers I-IV. The needs of gifted students are addressed through gifted-endorsed teachers, advanced content classes, and through the Tier process of RtI. 9(a) List of state and local educational agency programs and other federal programs that will be included: Title I Part A funds: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Summer EOC Review ● After school EOC review ● After school tutoring ● Materials for at-risk students— EOC review materials ● Professional Learning—Parental Involvement ● Supplemental Instructional Materials ● School Improvement Planning

Tutorial services are provided that help them meet the same challenging level of academic proficiency as that which is expected of all children. For homeless youth at the high school, in an effort to get them back on track for graduation should the need exist, the principal allows the student to take Focus and/or Saturday academic classes for free. We do not currently receive Title I-C funds; however, if we did we would use the funds for a migrant facilitator and supplies/materials for supporting a migrant population.

4 If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	Greenville High is a school-wide Title I program. All students are eligible for, and provided with, Title I services. We use Milestone scores, Lexile levels, and classroom grades in order to identify students who are most in need of Title I services and rank student service needs from most to least severe.
